

Fresh water should be available at all times and hutches and runs should be regularly cleaned and disinfected.

If you have any queries or ideas, or if you would like to share your experiences and photographs with us, we would be delighted to hear from you.

Just a few tips about the storage of your hay:

Once purchased please open as soon as possible and store in a cool, dark, dry and airy place out of any sunlight.

For expert advice regarding your Guinea Pig or Rabbit's diet and welfare go to the 'partners' page on our website www.deansfarm.net

Thank you for choosing
Deans Farm Hay

At Deans Farm we take animal welfare seriously and it is our aim to provide the best hay possible for your Guinea Pig or Rabbit.

Quality hay is an essential part of your small animal's diet. That is why at Deans Farm we only use hay that has been cut and left to dry naturally in the sun. It is then barn stored until it is packed by hand into convenient size bags, ready to feed to your Guinea Pig or Rabbit.

Hay provides essential fibre to keep your small animals' gut in good working order. It also has the added benefit of providing entertainment as they burrow, play and generally enjoy arranging it to their own specification!

Unlike many other hay products, Deans Farm hay is neither chopped or processed allowing it to retain as much of its natural goodness and fibre as possible.

Hay should provide the majority of your Guinea Pig or Rabbit's diet and be freely available at all times.

As a general rule, their diet should consist of around:

- ♥ 80% hay
- ♥ 15% fresh vegetables (limit fruit to more of a "treat")
- ♥ 5% good quality pellets

For more specific dietary information, you are advised to contact your local Independent Pet Shop, Guinea Pig / Rabbit Welfare Organisation or your Vet.

